

The Dallas Treaty.

The Senate has rejected, by an overwhelming vote, this treaty. This is what we expected from that body. The wonder is that it was made by our minister at the Court of St. James. It is the most objectionable document ever presented to the Senate, involving our foreign relations. It wears upon its front an entangling alliance with England respecting the affairs of Central America, that would be the cause of more trouble and embarrassment than we have ever had to encounter. The unsettled points in that part of the world, between this country and England, had better, by far, remain unsettled. They are not half so prolific of trouble to the peace of the two countries as this treaty would be. Besides, by this treaty, we agree with England in adjusting the affairs of Central American States, with which we have no concern. A treaty with those States is the only way to adjust the questions of the sort. What the rights of England are in Central America, would be proper subjects of treaty between that country and the United States. The United States do not wish to interfere with any just claims; but this treaty involves the interest of the Central American States. If those latter had been powerful States, neither of the parties would have thought of such a treaty. As it is, the treaty looks like a demand made upon States unable to resist. We rejoice that the Senate has rejected the thing; whatever the result may be, they could not do worse than to adopt it. We should let all Europe know that we will not treat with any power on that continent respecting the affairs of any of the States on this. We shall regard any right they have justly acquired, and treat respecting those rights; but when we have any concern with the Central American States, we shall regard them alone as independent States, and treat alone with them. Any European power can do the same. The whole country, of all parties, applauded the reply of Everett to the proposal of a tripartite treaty respecting Cuba. The majority reasons gave for declining the proposition, were conclusive. They apply, to a sufficient extent, to the case now in hand. The interest of England and the United States are too unequal to justify a treaty recognizing equality. England would not think of treating with us about a matter in which her interest so greatly preponderated. We want no partners from Europe in the affairs of Central America. The anxiety for a settlement of grave questions may tempt men to plunge into others and accumulate greater evils for the future, in order to shut those of the present; but it is a miserable, short-sighted policy. The Clayton and Bulwer language should be a warning to our statesmen. It created new embarrassments, and settled nothing. The Dallas treaty is worse, if possible, than that. Better try again, and if something more reasonable can be done, let the present troubles settle themselves. There is no danger in asserting our just rights in Central America; but if there is, the remedy for the evil in this treaty will be a good deal worse than the disease.

Local Affairs.

THE RIVER.—The river is rising at this point, with seven feet water in the Indiana chute—sufficient to admit the passage of boats up over the falls.

The river news from above is very cheering. They have nearly eight feet water at Pittsburg, and over twenty-three feet at Wheeling. There has been a general break-up in Western Pennsylvania, and fearful floods are being experienced in some localities.

THE MERCHANTS' HOTEL.—In Fifth street, between Main and Market, is undergoing a thorough renovation. The familiar countenance of George C. Steele may be seen in the saloon—a sufficient guarantee of permanency to such as register their names. George is a noble representative of a fine old family of whom we read, but with whom we rarely meet.

REVOLVING.—Everybody complained of the disagreeable odor which seemed to infest the atmosphere in almost every business locality in the city yesterday. A correct analysis of the gases composing the vital elements yesterday, would have detected something foreign. Indeed, it was very suggestive of a characteristic and classic expression relative to Denmark.

THE EDITOR OF THE FRANKFORT COMMONWEALTH.—The editor of the late Frankfort Post and Co. will not publish a protest in the Democrat. He even says they will not use it for any purpose. That shows that they do not understand their own interest, and we now believe that the Know-Nothing did perfectly right in dispensing with their useless services.

HENRY MARTIN.—who has been for many years connected with the Louisville and Cincinnati Mail Company as clerk, has withdrawn from his familiar place, and will take charge of the books in the office of the new steamer W. H. Adams, now at the wharf. We part with him reluctantly, but wish him good luck wherever his lot may be cast.

THE FIFTH DISTRICT.—We stated on Saturday that some persons had been out with their own cars on the previous night. Alice Smith, the owner of the house, has charged five or six young men with the crime, and the matter came up for investigation in Police Court yesterday, but was continued till today.

A GREAT SAFE.—Capt. Hargis has mistaken evidence of the practical value of his safe. One of them stood the test of the terrible conflagration at Mr. Gallagher's warehouse, Sunday night, and when it was recovered and opened the contents were found to be in a perfect state of preservation.

A FRIGHTFUL MAN.—A man by the name of Robert Marshall, frightened the market people, at one of the market-houses, by violent language and pugilistic demonstrations. He was brought before Police Court yesterday, and held to bail in the sum of $200, to be of good behavior for three months.

RELENTLESS.—Mrs. Anna Woodruff, feeling aggrieved at certain bad treatment on the part of her husband, took out a peace warrant against him, but her conjugal affection got the better of her resentment, and she failed to appear in Police Court. The warrant, therefore, was dismissed.

THE H. BRIDGES.—added to the number of boats at the wharf yesterday morning. She will reach Bowling Green about as soon as any one desires. Capt. Combs is an agreeable man, and we cannot say as much for that con-cub pipe. The Bridges is a desirable boat to travel upon.

CAPT. ATTENBOROUGH'S STEAMER.—The Frod Tron, is one of the most popular steamers which float now, and a boat that can boast of as fine and comfortable a cabin as can be made. She is bound upward, and we recommend her to such as have an upward tendency.

PROBABLY DROWNED.—An assistant engineer on the steamer David White left overboard from that boat, near Brandenburg, on Monday night. It is altogether improbable that he reached the shore, as heavy ice was running at that time. He lived in this city.

JOHN AKERS.—a young man just in the prime of manhood, died of small-pox on Saturday. He was one of the most daring of our firemen, and when the bell sounded the alarm he was first to answer to its call. We sympathize with his afflicted family.

NEW TRIAL.—We stated some days ago that Messrs. W. & H. Crittenden, coal dealers, had been fined in the City Court for pursuing their business without license. They made a motion for a new trial, however, which was granted yesterday.

A MAN GUILTY OF INSULTING LADIES.—and in the neighborhood of Fourth and Breckinridge was yesterday arrested on a warrant and taken to jail by Officer Stacy. His case will come up this morning.

THE MEMBERS OF THE RESCUE FIRE COMPANY.—through a card this morning, tender their thanks to Mr. A. Martin, for refreshments furnished them after returning from their yesterday morning.

THE NEW YORK AND GLADSTONE.—ventured from the wharf on Sunday morning and headed their way toward Cincinnati. We hope these two popular boats will be successful in their undertakings.

DISCHARGED.—A young man was arrested and brought before the Police Court yesterday, charged with passing a $2 note on a broken bank. Nobody appearing against him, he was dismissed.

DON'T COME TO TIME.—John Nau sued out a peace warrant against four or five individuals, but, failing to come into Police Court yesterday in proper time, the warrant was dismissed.

JOHN BROWN.—one of the late Marshal Kidd's securities, made a motion in Police Court yesterday for some kind of relief, which will be heard this morning.

CARROT AT NEW ALBANY.—A loose flat-boat floated over the falls yesterday, and was hoisted when opposite New Albany and taken ashore.

A MAN WAS ARRESTED yesterday morning for attempting to appropriate a quantity of iron to his own use at the scene of the fire on Main street.

THE STEAMER JAMES MONTGOMERY reached our city last evening, and will leave again on Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, for New Orleans.

COAL FOR NEW ALBANY.—The tow-boat Diamond arrived at New Albany Sunday with a shipment of coal for that city.

WARREN RIVER.—There is said to be a very heavy rise in the Warrenton river, with a prospect of a flood.

THE WEATHER.—The weather was bright, cool and bracing yesterday, with a slight breeze last night.

Latest Intelligence.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.
SENATE.—Mr. Bright presented the credentials of Graham N. Fitch, and moved that the oath of office be administered to him. Mr. Fitch took the oath, and was seated on the Senate floor. Mr. Bright then presented the credentials of John C. Breckinridge, and moved that the oath of office be administered to him. Mr. Breckinridge took the oath, and was seated on the Senate floor.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.
THE INQUEST in the case of Dr. Burdell was continued yesterday. Miss Helen Cunningham's testimony corroborated her sister's concerning her mother's marriage with Dr. Burdell. Levi S. Chaffield testified to drawing up the papers for Mrs. Cunningham against Dr. Burdell for breach of promise and slander. He afterwards drew an order for their discontinuance about three weeks since. He was informed by Mrs. Cunningham's attorney that she had indicated that she would have to re-consider her case. Mr. Cunningham testified to supplying a new key for Dr. Burdell's safe, and that the key found in Mrs. Cunningham's possession was the original missing key.

THE BURELL EXCITEMENT.
Several witnesses have testified in the Burdell case. Dr. B. and Mr. Smith, both having been connected with Burdell, testified to the belief that the latter was at St. Louis on the 22nd of October, the date of the alleged marriage. Burdell also testified that certain papers found in Eckel's possession, pertaining to his marriage with Burdell and Mrs. Cunningham, were forged by Burdell and his associates. Wm. Burdell, of Columbus, Ohio, brother of the deceased, has given notice that he intends to apply for letters of administration on the latter's estate.

ANOTHER FILLIBUSTER INVASION.
NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9.
Dates from Vera Cruz to the 31st, and the City of Mexico to the 29th ult., represent the country as disaffected. The United States are threatened by a filibuster invasion of Lower California from San Francisco.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.
The only communication sent by way of Aqueduct, is by foot, being regularly carried by night, and is to be put on in a few days. There is no connection with Alexandria except by this route, and by foot passengers and horsemen via Georgetown and the aqueduct.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 9.
There was a collision on the Pacific Railroad on Saturday night near Newburg. One passenger car was demolished, and a German boy injured. Several passengers were more or less injured.

PORTLAND, Feb. 9.
The officers' quarters at Fort Sullivan were destroyed by fire on Wednesday. On the day following the soldiers' quarters were burned.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9.
The cotton presses of Hunt & Montgomery, situated at Mobile, burnt to a cinder.
